

As an End User you will be able to see certain details of the services you are linked to on their account. If you require information on your bill, you will need to request this from your account holder. Only the account holder (or any authorised contact that the account holder may appoint) can make changes to the account.

The account holder (and any authorised contacts that the account holder may appoint) will have access to your personal data. For the purposes of data protection legislation, you consent to such disclosure of your personal data (which shall include your phone records, invoices etc.) to the account holder.
